

Kendra Jayne Patrick

Kenya (Robinson)

(b. Landstuhl Germany, 1977)

Kenya (Robinson) is an artist born in Landstuhl, Germany and raised in Gainesville, Florida, investigating gender, consumerism, and ability through unexpected performative actions and sculptural gestures. She received an MFA in Sculpture from Yale in 2013. Her work has been shown at the Museum of Modern Art, The Kitchen, The Museum of Contemporary African Diasporan Arts, and the 60 Wall Street Gallery of Deutsche Bank among many others.

(Robinson)'s work is in public collections at the Smithsonian Museum of African American History and Culture, Santa Fe College Museum of Art, and the Peggy Cooper Caferitz collection. (Robinson) has been awarded the Florida Prize in Contemporary Art, presented by The Orlando Museum of Art; a Kohler Residency; a Creative Capital Grant; and an Emerging Artist Grant from the Rema Hort Mann Foundation.