

METRO PICTURES

"The Approval Matrix," New York Magazine (June 21-July 4, 2021): 96.

NEW YORK

HIGHBROW

Juneteenth is officially a national holiday.

Tom Lin's The Thousand Crimes of Ming Tsu puts a Chinese American assassin at the center of a Western.

The Signature Theatre reopens with the immersive Watering Hole, by Lynn Nottage and Miranda Haymon.

New trustbusting FTC chair Lina Khan makes Silicon Valley properly nervous.

The hauntingly erotic exhibition "Wish" at Metro Pictures.

Kurt Andersen's captivating podcast Nixon at War draws a through-line from Vietnam to Watergate.

Don Christian Jones's homage to '90s Philadelphia at the Shed.

Strike averted at The New Yorker.

Christiane Amanpour touchingly advocates for women's health while announcing her own cancer diagnosis.

A ticker-tape parade for health-care workers is pretty cool.

The Sparks Brothers, Edgar Wright's paean to two bizarre pop iconoclasts.

BRILLIANT

